To whom it may concern,

This is a letter of testimony for the proofreading services of Marc Murphy-Robinson.

Edu. International is a Myanmar-based education magazine. Marc provides proofreading services at various stages of the magazine cycle, ultimately ensuring that all of our articles are ready to print.

Marc's proofreading service is thorough and effective. He has excellent knowledge of spelling and grammar, as well as fantastic attention to detail. In addition to corrections, Marc also provides suggestions to improve the readability and clarity of articles.

Marc is very easy to work with; he is reliable, provides a quick turnaround and his queries and comments are always relevant and useful.

I have no hesitation in recommending his services.
